

When you wish
to produce a result
by means of an instrument,
do not allow yourself
to complicate it

by introducing many subsidiary parts but follow the briefest way possible, and do not act as those do who when they do not know how to express a thing in its own proper vocabulary proceed by a method of circumlocution and with great prolixity and confusion.